RIS
A Think-Tank of Developing Countries

Research and Information System for Developing Countries (RIS), a New Delhi based autonomous institute under the Ministry of External Affairs, Government of India, is an organisation that specialises in policy research on international economic issues and development cooperation. RIS is envisioned as a forum for fostering effective policy dialogue and capacity-building among developing countries on international economic issues.

One of the work programmes of RIS is to promote South-South Cooperation and assist developing countries in multilateral negotiations in various forums. RIS is engaged in the Track II process of several regional initiatives. RIS is providing analytical support to the Government of India in the negotiations for concluding comprehensive economic cooperation agreements with partner countries. Through its intensive network of policy think-tanks, RIS seeks to strengthen policy coherence on international economic issues.

For more information about RIS and its work programme, please visit its website: www.ris.org.in — Policy research to shape the international development agenda

RIS
Research and Information System for Developing Countries

ASEAN-India Centre at RIS

Dynamics of ASEAN-India Strategic Partnership

Dynamics of ASEAN-INDIA
Strategic Partnership

ASEAN-India Centre at RIS

ASEAN Secretariat

Ministry of External Affairs Government of India

RIS Research and Information System for Developing Countries

ASEAN-India Centre at RIS